International conference ICCWS on Cyber Warfare & Security

13th International Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security

National Defense University
Washington DC, USA

8 - 9 March 2018

About The Conference

ICCWS is an opportunity for academics, practitioners and consultants from around the world who are involved in Cyber Warfare and Security research to come together and exchange ideas.

There are several strong strands of research developing in the cyber warfare and cyber security area including the understanding of threats and risks to information systems, the development of a strong security culture, as well as incident detection and post incident investigation.

New threats brought about by social networking and cloud computing are gaining interest from the research community and the conference is tackling these issues.

The 13th International Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security (ICCWS 2018) is designed to seize the opportunity to deliberate issues in this area of research.

ICCWS 2018 will provide opportunities for people working and researching in the field to come together both formally and informally to share their knowledge and expertise.

Topics for ICCWS 2018 may include, but are not limited to:

- Cyber Warfare
- Cyber Defence
- Cyber Terrorism
- Cyber Security
- Cyber Crime
- Cloud Security
- Social networking threats
- Big Data Security
- Psychological Warfare
- Digital Forensics

ICCWS 2018

is being hosted by the National Defense University in Washington DC, USA NDU is an internationally recognized graduate-level university with five colleges and multiple centers of excellence focused on joint education, leader development, and scholarship in national security matters.

Washington, D.C. is the capital city of the United States of America. The President of the United States and many major national government offices are in the city. It is the political centre of the United States.

Washington was named after the first U.S. President, George Washington. The "D.C." stands for "District of Columbia", a special area created that is not a state.
