

Roy A. Austin
Program Manager, Pinnacle/Keystone

Roy Austin joined the Capstone Staff as the Program Manager for Pinnacle and Keystone in May 2007. His previous position was as an Executive Assistant and Advisor to the Senior Director for Specialized Programs and Principle Deputy Chief Operating Officer, National Defense University. Prior to reporting to NDU, he served as Deputy Director for the National Interagency Civil-Military Institute in San Diego, California.

Roy retired in July 2002 from the US Army Special Operations Command Fort Bragg, North Carolina as a Command Sergeant Major with 34.5 years of service. Other organizations he served with were mechanized infantry, military police, and combat engineers. Roy holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Organizational Security Management from the University of Phoenix and is completing his MBA in Management.

Roy is married to the former Caroline Beall of Manteca, California. They have two daughters and have seven grandchildren.