

GOVERNMENT STRATEGIC LEADER (GSL) PROGRAM

GSL PROGRAM

- Certificate
- Concentration in Government Information Leadership M.S. Degree

Today the most seasoned government leaders face extraordinary challenges in managing resources, information technologies, social networks, and leading globalized responses. The GSL Program provides government leaders the essential tools and strategies required to lead dynamic, complex, and diverse 21st Century organizations.

The curriculum:

- Engages participants in understanding their organization's and others' unique roles
- Explains how to collaborate to achieve the mission and vision
- Fosters a learning community to share knowledge and analyze/leverage strategic resources.

To earn the GSL Certificate, students must complete courses in Management, Leadership, and Technology. The GSL offers a concentration in the college's Government Information Leadership Master of Science degree program.

Students may apply their certificate, equivalent to at least 15 graduate-level credit hours, toward select master's or doctoral degree programs at several Academic Partner universities across the U.S.
