

NEW USCG SHUTTLE BUS STOP

As many of you know, the DoT building is being completely renovated. The extensive work involves heavy demolition and rebuilding, and it will affect our current USCG Shuttle Bus Stop location. The general contractor for this work will begin to erect a safety and security fence around the DoT building between 1 and 6 July 2007. Therefore, beginning on Monday, 2 July, our current Shuttle Bus Stop location is no longer available to us.

The new Shuttle Bus Stop location will be at the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) building at 7th and D Street on the D Street side of the building. Here is a picture of the building as it is seen on D Street where the new Shuttle Bus Stop is located.

The line location will be on a sidewalk that runs along the building's exterior and under a large overhang. This area is located directly behind a gated parking lot for the HUD building on D Street. HUD requests that we do not transit this gated parking lot. The USCG Shuttle Bus will pull into the area in front of the L'Enfant Plaza Promenade steps (depicted in the map below).

Shuttle bus riders are encouraged to take a few minutes during one of their daily commutes and become familiar with the location of the new Shuttle Bus Stop location.
