

IT PROGRAM/PROJECT MANAGEMENT

ITPgM PROGRAM

- 2 Certificates
- Concentration in Government Information Leadership M.S. Degree

The Information Technology Program Management (ITPgM) program is designed to meet the ever-increasing demand for qualified program and project managers across the federal government. This program develops project management competencies in three dimensions: project leadership skills, IT project/program management concepts and methods, and IT issues and development.

Options include:

Information Technology Project Management (ITPM) Certificate
(6 courses) - designed to assist agencies in complying with Office of Management and Budget (OMB) direction

- Satisfies OPM Interpretive Guidance for Project Management Positions and the CIO Council Clinger-Cohen Core Competencies
- Complements general PM training and the ANSI-recognized Guide to the Project Management Body of Knowledge

Information Technology Program Management (ITPgM) Certificate
(8 courses, ITPM Certificate + 2 additional courses) - specifically addresses OPM competencies for the ITPgM career field

Students may apply their certificates toward graduate credits at selected partner schools.
