

Mr. Douglas A. Raymond

Douglas Raymond is the founder and CEO of Julu Mobile, a mobile technology company based in Shanghai, China.

Prior to founding Julu Mobile, Doug was an executive at Google responsible for product development in Asia, managing product development teams focused on the development and launch of new advertising and mobile products in Asia-Pacific. Prior to moving to China, Doug was based at Google's headquarters in Mountain View, California. He is a three-time winner of Google's Operating Committee award for Impact and Innovation and an inventor on several patents. Doug is a frequent speaker at industry events on the topics of mobile technology, search advertising, and innovation.

Doug has consulted for several government agencies and U.S. Military commands on the use of new technologies for public affairs and public diplomacy.

Prior to Google, he served as an officer in the United States Army in the 1st Armored Division and 66th Military Intelligence Group.

Doug graduated from the United States Military Academy with distinction, and holds an MBA from Harvard Business School and a Masters in Information Systems from the University of Maryland.

He is a life member of the Council on Foreign Relations, a fellow of the National Committee on U.S.-China Relations Young Leaders Program, a fellow of the U.S. - Japan Foundation Leadership Program, and a member of the Aspen Institute Socrates Society.

He is also a proud third-generation Eagle Scout.

He lives in Shanghai with his wife Ananda and children, Beatrix and Quentin.